The Ohio Senate has unanimously appointed a committee to investigate trusts. We hope that no one will refuse to testify before this committee, and that the committee has power to compel them if they should.

A bill will shortly be introduced in the Ohio Legislature providing for the holding of primary in Ohio by law on the same day by all parties. This is measure that should pass as many people are in the habit of voting at primaries regardless of their politics.

The Champaign county grand jury returned fifty nine indictments against Z. T. Lewis, the Highland county bond forger, who is now in the Penitentiary. All but four of these have been nolleed, and he will be tried on these charges as soon as his present term expires.

It seems that Senator Morgan is mistaken in his assumption that President Cleveland really favored the annexation of Hawaii, and based his apparent opposition upon technicalities which could easily have been removed. Mr. Cleveland rushed promptly to press on hearing of the Senator's expression of views, and assured the palpitating public that he, as well as the sugar trust, was dead against the annexation of Hawaii, which has been and is favored by the Republican party.

Hon. Charles G. Dawes, the new Comptroller of the Currency, has almost at once, upon entering upon the duties of his office, issued an order which will be regarded generally as a thoroughly common-sense proposition. Mr. Dawes has found that in some cases national banks desiring to have special examinations have been in the habit of employing bank examiners outside of their official capacity, and he has decided that the stopping of this practice will operate to the benefit of the service and obviate any possibility of a lack of official strictness with reference to any bank coming under the examiner's jurisdiction.

The increase in revenue which has been such a strongly marked feature of the history of the Dingley law still continues. The August receipts were, in round numbers, $19,000,000; those of September, $22,000,000; October, nearly $24,000,000; November, $25,000,000 in round numbers, and January promises to be nearly quite $30,000,000. Thus the new law is already bringing in a revenue almost, if not quite, equal to the average expenditures of the Government, which seldom run above $365,000,000 per annum and in a good many cases drop several millions below that. There is every reason to expect that there will be a comfortable surplus in February and a larger one in March, and that the year will show a handsome balance to the credit of the new law.

It has been until recently allowable as a practice for Treasury bank examiners to make private examinations of banks within their jurisdiction, at extra compensation from such banks as for any reason desired special examinations of their accounts. This practice, however, has just been abolished by the new Comptroller of the Currency, Mr. Dawes, who states that he believes the stoppage of the practice will relieve examiners from any suspicion that such special employment can in any way affect the strictness of their official duties as applied to the banks under their jurisdiction. The action is generally commended as a sensible one, and will be food for thought for those persons who always insist that the entire Government is operated in the interests of the banks of the country.

Ohio Republicans and particularly Highland county Republicans, can take just pride in the conduct and standing of Senator Foraker in the National Senate. He has surpassed all expectations and at once took a position in that body which could not be obtained by others in a whole term of office. His loyalty to his friends seems to shine out brighter and brighter in the new position taken, and there need be no fear that he will forget or neglect those who have been his true helpers in the past. A few so-called Republicans, and we are sorry to say that some of them exist in this county, and who are prompted by some hope of personal advancement, have taken it upon themselves since the late Senatorial contest to attempt to criticize and abuse Senator Foraker and his friends, but their efforts will only bring down upon themselves the contempt of the great mass of Republicans who have followed Senator Foraker in his gallant fight year after year for the success of the Republican party. This paper is proud of its adherence to J. B. Foraker in the past and will in the future, without reserve, continue in the same path.

For some unaccountable reason the Wilmington Journal has been trying to work up opposition in the Sixth District to Hon. Seth W. Brown for a renomination for a second term. Clinton has never failed to have a candidate for some office at every convention to which she was entitled to representation, but we supposed she had learned enough by past experience not to oppose a man for his second term. The following editorial comments from three of the leading Republican papers in the district shows the sentiment of the people:

All the district papers save one are in favor of bestowing the nomination for Congress for a second term upon Seth W. Brown. It is true that other candidates have a right to go before the convention, but the convention also has a right to sit down on them. Now who wants to be set down upon for the sake of reaching for a thing that cannot be reached.—Cleveland Courier.

We have noticed in some of our exchanges that our present representative in Congress, the Hon. Seth W. Brown, will likely have opposition for his second term. While there may be many able men in our district, who would and could fill Mr. Brown's shoes, we think it bad politics to recognize such. It is custom to give representatives two terms, especially where the incumbent has taken so much pains as has Mr. Brown to ascertain the wishes of his constituents, and so consistently tried to act in accordance therewith. Mr. Brown will get his second term without much effort is our guess.—Ripley Bee.

Word comes from Clinton county that C. W. Swaim, will be the candidate from that county for Congressional honors, next spring. Charles is a good fellow, but if he is not courting defeat he would best smother for the present, his aspirations to represent this district and bite his time. Seth W. Brown is to good a man in Congress, to be retired at the end of his first term.—Lebanon Republican.

That Hon. Seth W. Brown has made a splendid congressman must be and we believe will be conceded by the great majority of the Republicans in every county in the district. Able, active and always on the alert in the interest of his constituents, his course in Congress has been one that certainly commends him to all. His brave and proper stand on Civil Service has attracted general attention and praise, and in every respect, he has proven himself far above the average Congressman.

SECRETARIES OF ASSOCIATED CHARITIES SAY DR. GREENE'S NERVURA CURES.

The Associated Charities Thus Place Dr. Greene's Nervura Above All Other Remedies to Cure,—A Real Blessing to the Sick and Suffering—The Remedy Which Will Surely Make You Strong and Well.

No greater proof of the wonderful efficacy and great curative powers of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy among the sick and suffering is possible and than the enthusiastic and glowing reports of the Associated Charities concerning this wonderful medicine and the marvelous cures it is everywhere effecting.

Mr. George S. Wilson, General Secretary of Associated Charities of Washington and the District of Columbia, and the best known man in the country in the field of charitable work, reports:

"In our work of the Associated Charities of Washington, we have dispensed Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy among the sick."

"It has been gladly received and with very gratifying results. In one case especially of nervous debility the report is very encouraging. She was also afflicted with dyspepsia."

"I am pleased to say that all reports that have come to my knowledge have been highly favorable."

Geo. S. Wilson, Gen'l Sec'y Associated Charities of the District of Columbia.

More enthusiastic still is the report of Miriam F. Witherspoon, General Secretary of the Associated Charities of Worcester, Mass., (35 Pearl Street), regarding the great value, as a medicine, of Dr. Greene's Nervura and its marvelous powers to cure disease and restore health to the people. She says:

"In my work as General Secretary of Charities in Worcester, I have distributed Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy among the needy poor and sick, and it has been received with thankfulness and great joy. One poor woman said she had been trying to save money enough to buy a bottle, and when she found I was to give her one, her joy and gratitude were great."

"In all cases the results have been as we hoped for, building up the feeble, nervous, overworked and underfed people who have in general no helper. As far as my experience goes it has been a real blessing."

M. F. Witherspoon, Gen'l Sec'y Associated Charities.

In these days when so many ordinary preparations are advertised, it is a real beneficence to the weak, weary, nerve shattered, tired and worn out sick and suffering to know positively and to be shown beyond any doubt or question that this one grand remedy, Dr. Greene's Nervura, does surely and certainly cure the sick; that it is the best remedy possible to take, either if one is only a little out of order, nervous and run down, or if suffering from more serious affections like nervous prostration, low blood and vitality, rheumatism, paralysis, stomach troubles, liver and kidney complaint, female weakness or other weakening and debilitating disease. In these reports of the Associated Charities is abundant proof that Dr. Greene's Nervura, which is purely vegetable and perfectly harmless, does cure the people, that it makes those who use it strong and well, and that it will cure you if you will take it. Don't fail to try it now.

Remember that in all cases you can consult Dr. Greene, 148 State St., Chicago, Ill., the noted and successful physician, absolutely free of charge, personally or by letter.

Satisfaction

With the results and character of this season's business and with the animated prospects of a restored prosperity to farming and industrial communities, we are inspired with confidence and with courage.

Since the panic of 1893 until the last season it has been a drag, a dread or a drouth. Every thing now, however, seems to be tending toward better times, and we congratulate you on the prospects.

Since the cyclone of trade which struck our store before the Holidays, and has since continued with some slight intermissions our very large and judiciously selected stock has been absorbed by willing and discriminating buyers, and has gone to adorn, to comfort, and to delight our friends in the town, in the country, and others from adjacent districts, who, hearing of our matchless goods and prices, have come here to participate in the advantages offered by a live store.

Of course we have remnants left in every department. These we will close out to make room for a stock of unparalleled superiority, which we had bought before the advance in prices, for the coming season.

Without specifications, we may say generally that we have some rare bargains of remnants in Suits, Overcoats, Odd Pants—in Knee Pants Suits especially—and in Underwear, Hats, Gloves and Shoes and Boots.

Our well known liberality and fairness, and the reliability of our goods, should and will be sufficient in this community to attract all bargain seekers.

Go all round where they are ostensibly making the deepest cuts, satisfy your curiosity, then come to our store and buy better goods for less money.
